

Better Together.

Dear Friends

Dear Friends of the Humane Society of Boulder Valley,

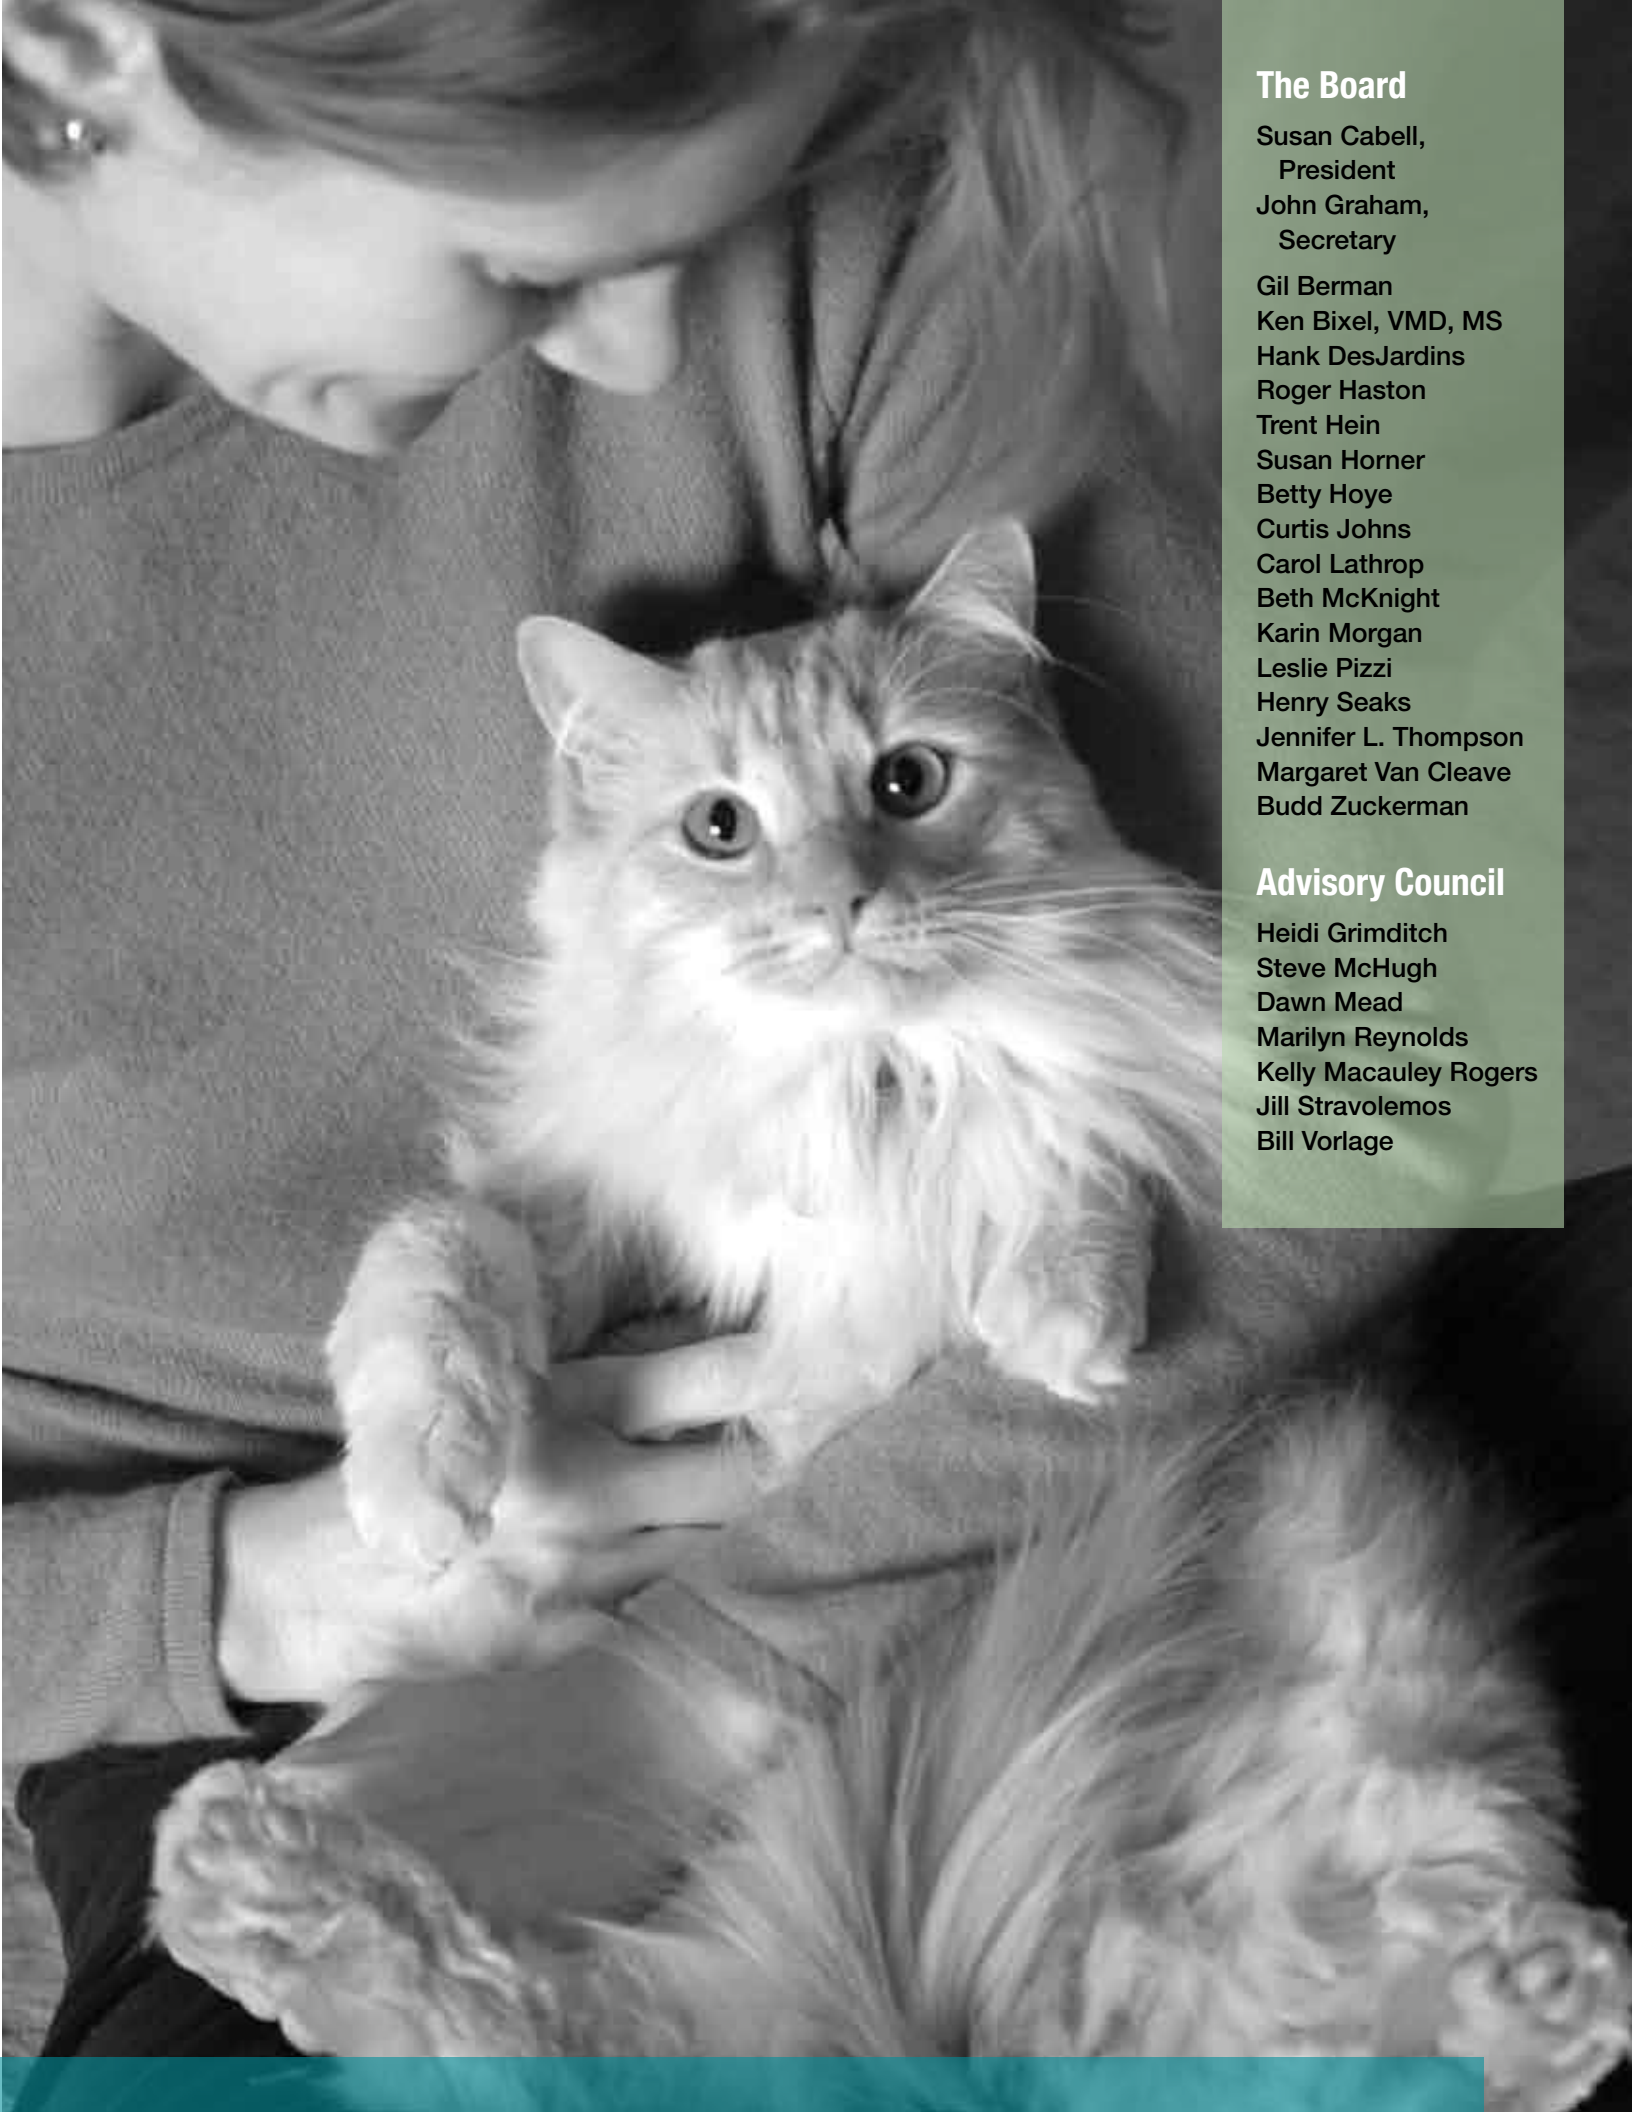

Your support has saved thousands of lives this past year. With your commitment to the programs and services of the Humane Society, we have been able to meet our goals of saving animals and improving lives. And 2005 was an incredible year for this organization... Over 4,600 animals were placed in new homes, the highest number of adoptions ever! We received over 2,000 animals from other shelters here in our region and from the hurricane affected areas of the south. This extension of compassion was only possible through the strong support of our community and our dedicated volunteers and donors. The hundreds of animals who traveled thousands of miles to find a safe haven from the storms they had been through were given a second chance to find their families or be placed with a new family ready to give them the love they so deserved.

We continued to enrich the programs we provide to homeless animals, increasing the resources available through our medical and behavioral rehabilitation programs. Nationally certifying our evaluation programs and developing new enrichment for the animals in our care created new opportunities for us to meet the needs of each animal who came through our doors. We took in over 8,000 animals in 2005 and were able to maintain a live release rate of 85%, meaning these animals were reunited with their families or adopted into a new home. We are proud of this accomplishment and have you to thank for making this possible.

During the past year, the Board of Directors adopted a new governance model. To this end, the Board of Directors of the Humane Society of Boulder Valley overarching goals are to ensure that animals do not suffer from abuse or neglect; that companion animals in the care of Humane Society of Boulder Valley have access to safe shelter and humane care; that companion animal overpopulation is eliminated in Boulder and Broomfield Counties; and that guardians of companion animals have the knowledge and resources to create a health pet/guardian relationship. It is with these goals in mind that the Board of Directors develops our vision for the future, making plans to meet the growing needs of our community. Thank you for your part in our mission.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Lucie Eitel Cabell". The signature is written in a cursive, flowing style.

Our Mission

Protecting

Safe Haven Program

The Safe Haven Program provides short-term care and boarding for pets whose guardians are in crisis situations. Safehouse Progressive Alliance for Nonviolence and the Emergency Family Assistance Association refer clients to us when animals are in need of temporary care. We provide the animals with safe housing and medical care for a maximum of six weeks. In 2005, the Humane Society provided care to 15 of these animals, representing over 223 boarding days.

Cruelty Investigation

It could be the call about the neighbor's dog who's been left outside, day after day, without adequate shelter, food or water. Or a cat who has been injured or ill for a lengthy stretch of time, or a pet whose coat is so badly matted you're unable to see her face. Animal Care and Control investigated 239 welfare cases and we sheltered

97 animals involved in neglect and cruelty cases. We work closely with local law enforcement, social services, and child protection agencies to promote compassion and improve the quality of life in our community. Whatever the concern, seven days a week, 24 hours a day, the Humane Society provides animal rescue in Boulder.

SART (State Animal Response Team)

The Humane Society of Boulder Valley participates in the State Animal Response Team. SART unites over fifty organizations, including emergency response agencies, state agencies, local governments and private non-profits, and is charged with rescuing and protecting animals during disasters.

Medical Rehabilitation

Our medical treatment program aims to stabilize and treat every wounded and sick animal who comes through our doors until their guardians can be located or the animal can be placed in our adoption center. Over 40% of the animals we shelter need some level of medical treatment while in our care. Through our rehabilitation program we can ensure each animal gets the individualized attention they need to regain their health.

Veterinary CARE Program

The CARE Program provides medical care and subsidized spay/neuter surgeries to clients that qualify as low income. In this way, we can assure that companion animals receive proper medical care and remain in their home with their guardian. In 2005, the Veterinary Clinic provided over 426 discounted treatments and over 79 surgeries.

Healing

Matchmaking

Pet Adoption

At the Humane Society of Boulder Valley we are committed to finding homes for healthy and treatable animals. Our progressive adoption program places thousands of lost, abandoned and unwanted companion animals with loving guardians. Last year 4,602 animals were adopted. Anyone interested in adopting can visit the shelter or our website, boulderhumane.org, to see photos and descriptions of our animals.

Transfer Program

Our transfer partners – animal shelters from Colorado and neighboring states – rely on us to accept animals from their overcrowded facilities. With open arms our staff and volunteers dedicate time and resources to help these animals find homes. Animals who without this program would have faced an uncertain future. Last year 58 organizations transferred 2035 animals to the Humane Society of Boulder Valley.

Foster Care Program

Foster families make it possible to help more animals by providing the individualized care animals need to become healthy. Special needs animals, like orphaned puppies and kittens, thrive in our foster homes. Thanks to the dedicated efforts of 138 foster volunteers, 790 animals were cared for in temporary homes until they were placed in the adoption center.

Pet Care Crew

One of the most recognized vehicles in Boulder County, the Pet Care Cruiser visits key locations throughout our community. This highly successful volunteer effort allows us to take pets available for adoption to potential pet adopters at a variety of retail sites, including local malls, community events and corporations. Last year over 32,539 people visited our animals on board the Cruiser which resulted in 39 adoptions. To schedule the Pet Care Crew to visit your location call 303.442.4030 x655.

Reuniting

Reuniting Pets and Guardians

In 2005, 1,709 lost and stray animals were reunited with their guardians. With Animal Care and Control officers on call 24 hours a day, they make sure animals will be safely returned to their guardians. We scan every animal in our care for a microchip to facilitate animals being reunited with their families.

Microchipping is available through our Veterinary Clinic and at the time of adoption or talk to your veterinarian. Keep your pet safe with a collar and identification tag and microchip. Keep your cat safe indoors, away from predators and other dangers.

Teaching

Training and Behavior Program

The positive and gentle reinforcement training offered by our staff of expert trainers fosters our mission of promoting healthy relationships between pets and people. The community's commitment to well-behaved dogs allows us to be on the forefront of animal welfare in supporting programs that not only protect animals but also enhance those animals' lives. Our Training and Behavior center is located at 5320 Arapahoe Avenue. Last year, over 3,057 clients took advantage of the different classes that were offered by the Training and Behavior Center. For more information on training classes and to register online go to boulderhumane.org/training or call 303.442.5995.

Court Program and Grumpy Growlers Class

The Humane Society of Boulder Valley, in partnership with the City of Boulder, evaluates and provides intervention programs for dogs in the community who received an aggressive animal summons. The goal of the program is to offer professional unbiased information about the dog and guardian. This information can then guide the court in implementing sentencing that may help the guardian to better manage problem behavior.

Dogs who have difficulty with other dogs and/or people can attend our Grumpy Growler classes. The goal of the classes is to teach dogs and clients to have a more harmonious relationship with the community. Skills are taught for the management and prevention of problem behavior. In 2005, over 150 clients and their dogs received services from the Court Program and the Grumpy Growler Classes.

Camp Happy Tails

For the third year, The Humane Society of Boulder Valley hosted Camp Happy Tails in partnership with the YMCA. One hundred forty four campers participated in day camp activities, including learning about responsible pet guardianship and other humane education topics. This unique experience gave campers a chance to make a difference in the lives of the homeless animals we serve.

Caring

Web Site – www.boulderhumane.org

You'll find photos and descriptions of the animals available for adoption at the Humane Society on our website. Updated every hour, the web site is also the fastest way to find program descriptions, information on upcoming events, volunteer opportunities, pet care tips, sign-up for classes and more.

Thrift and Gift Shop

Thanks to your generous donations of household items, clothing and furniture, the Thrift and Gift Shop raised $153,420 in 2005 to help support our programs at the Humane Society. Located at 5320 Arapahoe Avenue, the Thrift and Gift Shop is a great place to donate, shop and volunteer. Call 303.415.0685 for more information.

Providing Over One Hundred Years of Care

Thanks to our supporters, the Humane Society of Boulder Valley has met the need of thousands of animals for over one hundred years. A group of community volunteers founded our shelter in 1902, and that spirit of caring has continued to guide our important work.

Humane Society Bequest Society

The Humane Society of Boulder Valley Bequest Society recognizes those individuals who make a legacy of care possible for the animals we serve. The bequests of donors over the decades help us build a strong institution that meet the ever changing needs of the animals. For more information about the Bequest Society, call 303.442.4030 x629.

Volunteer Program

Humane Society of Boulder Valley volunteers make a difference in the lives of homeless animals every day. In 2005, 600 volunteers contributed more than 73,561 hours to caring for the animals, raising funds, assisting with outreach and working in our retail centers. For more information on volunteering, visit our website, boulderhumane.org.

Companion Care for Life

After a guardian's death the future of their companion animals can be uncertain. The Companion Care for Life Program assists in making the best possible arrangements for the care of your animals when you are no longer able to provide for their needs. For more information on the Companion Care for Life Program call our Development Department at 303.442.4030 x629.
